BENEFITS OF NATURE BASED EXPERIENCES

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES

We offer a unique experience that many employees may not have had the opportunity to try before. It is a fun and exciting adventure creating everlasting memories.

TEAM BUILDING:

Hiking and camping trips are excellent opportunities for team building. Your employees are placed in a new environment where they have the opportunity to assist in navigating trails, participate in camp duties or simply take time to slow down to connect with each other; all of which help knit strong and timeless working relationships.

PHYSICAL ACTIVITY:

Physical activity can be beneficial for employees who spend most of their time indoors. This type of activity can help to improve overall health and wellbeing, and can be a great way to kickstart a healthier lifestyle for the home and workplace.

EMPLOYEE RETENTION:

Companies that show appreciation for their employees are more likely to retain them. Our trips are a great way to show staff that they are valued and can help increase job satisfaction and loyalty.

A CHANCE TO RESET:

Spending time in nature has been shown to reduce stress and anxiety levels, and can provide a much-needed break from the daily grind. This will lead to happy and productive employees when they return to work.

DISCONNECT FROM TECHNOLOGY:

We are all constantly connected to our phones and computers, it's important to take time away from technology to learn how to focus on the present moment, connect with nature and each other and recharge the mental batteries.
